Hockey Club Appoints Managers

At the meeting of the hockey club held Monday, Jack McCloy and Clint Reiber were appointed joint managers for the team. The boys should be able to produce a good brand of hockey this season as practically all the players of last year's winning team are available together with several new players.

Efforts are being made to organize a league comprising Airrie, Crossfield, Carstairs, Olds and Didsbury. In any event the fans can be assured that some snappy games will be seen on the rink. Ice is being prepared as fast as the weather will allow and it is expected that games will be scheduled the first part of December.

Crossing Accident.

Another crossing accident occurred on Monday evening when Clay Robbins driving a Ford car tried to beat the train at the crossing.

Robbins was driving east when the evening passenger train was pulling into the depot. He apparently did not see the train for he drove head on into the engine. The car was thrown on to the side walk and the driver was fortunate to escape with minor injuries. The car is a total wreck.

Professor Smith Will Give Farm Lecture

The local U.F.A. has arranged with Professor Smith, manager of International Harvester Company's Demonstration Farm at Gull Lake, Saskatchewan, to give a lecture on farming in the old United Church building, Tuesday, December 8th.

This lecture will be of great interest to the farmers of this district, as Prof. Smith will talk on problems facing the farmer in semi-arid districts, and will deal with matters such as: drought, soil-drifting, weed control, livestock raising, and diversified farming from all angles.

Prof. Smith has been manager of the demonstration farm, which is in the dried-out area, for several years, combating drought, weeds and soil-drifting, and has been doing good work. It will be interesting to know that even with drought conditions and low prices he has been able to show a profit on the farm; He will have a message that will be of interest to all farmers.

In addition to the lecture, a five-reel motion picture showing the "Romance of the Reaper" will be given. This picture has created intense interest wherever it has been shown.

A special invitation is extended to the ladies to attend this lecture.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Miss Florence Reiber spent a few days in Calgary last week.

Mr. H. F. Platt was a Calgary visitor over the week-end.

Red Cross Meeting.

The annual meeting of the local branch of the Red Cross Society was held last Friday evening, with Mayor Chambers, president in the chair. There was a small attendance, owing, no doubt to the inclement weather, but those present made up for that by their enthusiasm for the work done and to be done this winter. The report by the secretary of the work done by the society during the past year was interesting and showed good results.

A special effort is to be made at this time to raise funds and obtain clothing and provisions in order that the society may always be prepared for any emergency. It is expected many calls will be made this winter, and the Junior Red Cross Hospital, which has been of such service to the communities of the Didsbury district, is not to be forgotten.

A special committee was appointed to look after a drive for wheat, flour and provisions of any kind, and the ladies are going to put out a tea at an early date. It is hoped there will be a large increase of members this coming year. The membership only costs one dollar and the dividends are fixed at one hundred per cent, so that it is one of the best investments on the market.

A cordial vote of thanks was extended to all those members and friends who have, during the past year donated money, clothing and provisions, and to the publishers of the Didsbury Pioneer who have so generously donated space in the paper to the activities of the society.

The following slate of officers were elected:

President: Mayor H.W. Chambers. Sec-Treas: Mr. W. A. Astum. Executive: Mayor and H.W. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Kendrick; Mrs. W. A. Astum; Mrs. H. D. Bookers; Mrs. W. G. Evans; Mrs. W. G. Lecombe; Mrs. A. G. Sinder; Mrs. J.E. Hugert; Mrs. D. McKay; and Messrs. J. V. Berscht and H. Morgan.

Coming Events

Don't forget the Go-Getters play: "An Evening At Home." Betty Behave, also the dance in Melvin School, Friday, December 4th at 8 p.m. Admission: 25c to play and Gents, 25c to dance.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bennie on November 23rd, a daughter.

RINKS LTD. ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the shareholders in Didsbury Rinks Ltd. will be held in the C.P.R. waiting-room on Monday, November 30th at 8 p.m. Business to be transacted will be general and election of officers will be held.

A. C. FISHER,
Secretary.

Obituary.

Mrs. LENORA BELLAMY

The death of Mrs. Lenora Bellamy the wife of Mr. John Bellamy, occurred at Salmon Arm B.C. on Thursday, Nov. 19. She had undergone an operation a few weeks ago and was thought to be recovering but she passed away quietly in her sleep.

Mrs. Bellamy will be remembered in this district as one of the old-timers, coming here with her husband and family from Ontario in 1902. They lived in two West-end districts until about 15 years ago when they moved to British Columbia. She is remembered as a kindly neighbor and has a host of friends in the district.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and six sons, Willard Jay, of Salmon Arm; Peter, of Vancouver; Cliff and of Didsbury; Whitely, of Cranston and John, of Belmont, Sask. One son, James, preceded her in 1923. The funeral was held at Salmon Arm.

Several members of Three Hills Lodge, I.O.O.F. visited the storm Thursday night last and visited the Didsbury Lodge to receive the "Travelling stars," which the local lodge had acquired from Alberta Lodge No. 1 (Calgary) the previous week. During the meeting the honorary degree was conferred on a candidate and District Deputy Bro. Haynes of Three Hills complimented the members on their work. After lodge members of the local Riddalah Lodge, and lady friends were entertained to a social evening and a very enjoyable time was spent.

Teas are not alike try Salada flavour "SALADA" TEA 'Fresh from the gardens' Set Your Own Standard

Most of us have seen the cartoons and read the stories appearing under the title "Keeping up with the Joneses." We have laughed over them, but at the same time exclaimed aloud, or murmured to ourselves, "What fools!"

Critically facing, and closely diagnosing the situation which confronts thousands of us today as individuals, and all of us collectively as represented by our municipal, provincial and federal governments, must we not admit that no small part of our present financial problems are the result of conditions created by an attitude analogous to that portrayed in "Keeping up with the Joneses?"

The acuteness of our present day situation may be due to other causes quite beyond our control,—such as protracted drouth, and consequent crop failure, leading to unemployment in urban centres,—but would we not as a people, individually and collectively, have been able to withstand these shocks if, when times were prosperous and business active, we had not lived up to, and in many cases far beyond, our current income in a desperate race in which each and all were striving to keep up with somebody else?

Looking back,—and it is in times like these that people are in the mood to "look back"—take stock, and give heed to things that at other times when everything is forging full speed ahead they will not stop and consider,—is it not possible to see that we indulged in expenditures which our actual position did not warrant but into which we plunged because of a false vanity that we must keep up with somebody else?

The old motor car although still serviceable was not good enough because somebody else had bought a new, more up-to-date, faster car; the simple, refreshing, health-giving holiday at a near-by lake we had enjoyed for years had to give place to an expensive trip to the Coast, or a winter in California, or Florida, or some Eastern city because somebody else had followed such a course; or because somebody else sent their son or daughter to university, we must do likewise, even though our boy and girl might not have similar tastes or inclinations or aptitude for the higher degrees of learning.

And these traits of character in the individual naturally have found expression in the policies of the governments we have created. Because older established, more populous and wealthier provinces, states and countries have, through the expenditure of millions of dollars, created great systems of permanent, all-weather roads, why we must do the same although still young, weak and not yet wealthy as a community. Not only roads, but our schools, our public buildings, all our public services had to be the equal of those to be found anywhere else. As individuals, as electors, we demanded these things, and our governments were forced to comply with our demands or give way for those who would. We were determined to keep up with the Joneses of the whole world.

As a result the factories of the world were busy turning out not necessities alone but enormous quantities of luxuries at a fabulous cost. Stocks and bonds of these inflated industries mounted in value to dizzy heights. Everybody bought them with a view to amassing more money in order that they might buy still more luxury. Sooner or later a collapse had to come, and the Joneses of the world and their vast array of imitators are now in difficulty.

There is a lesson all may well take to heart at this time. It is this: Rightly or wrongly,—and wrongly we believe, and certainly wrong in the vast differences which do exist, wealth is unevenly divided, income and earning power vary greatly from one person to another, and at different periods of a person's life. One man's standard of living and expenditure cannot safely be accepted as sound and proper by another man. While our present distribution of wealth continues, one man's loss change will be another man's extravagant folly.

Like everything else in this changing world, the social order is changing. Furthermore, it is the right and privilege of every man and woman to work for a change along lines he or she considers will be better, more just; with this limitation, however, that they must consider and respect the rights of others just as they expect their rights to be respected. Self-interest alone must not be our guide, because, in the final analysis, insistence of self-interest alone means self-destruction. And this is true of nations just as truly as it is of individuals.

George Washington once said: "Economy makes happy homes and sound nations, build it deep." Far better to follow this age advice than to indulge in the heart-burning dissatisfaction of continually trying to keep up with the Joneses.

Fraud Of Record

In the province of Vermont, Sweden, 1st farmers have received diplomas testifying to the long period of tenancy of their lands. The record seems to be held by a family at Eda, which has farmed its lands since 1470. But another family, at Norda Embo, has held a farm since 1480. The Swedish farmers take great pride in their family records and the new diplomas are highly prized.

Could Not Check the Summer Complaint

A Few Doses Did It

Mrs. B. Coulter, 218 11th Ave. E., Calgary, Alta., writes:—"Last summer my youngest son was very bad with summer complaint, and everything he ate made him vomit, and he got so thin I became very much worried. I could not get the discharge checked, so I went to the drugist and he gave me a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and told me I would stop the trouble if anything would. After I had given the boy the first few doses I noticed the discharges were being checked, and in not long before he was well again."

Hard Times In Labrador

Twelve Thousand Families Are Reported To Be Facing Starvation

Unless prompt assistance is forthcoming some 12,000 families face starvation this winter in the Hudson Bay district of Labrador, according to a report presented to the Quebec Government by Rev. A. S. Leomeygan, provincial school inspector and Anglican missionary of the stricken district. This condition was brought about by the failure of the cod fishing industry this year.

The report was considered by a cabinet meeting, at the conclusion of which Premier L. A. Taschereau said the Quebec Government will do everything as soon as possible to alleviate the situation.

"We would naturally like the Dominion authorities to go 50-50 with us in providing this relief," he added.

DRAPERIES MADE NEW

"When we resumed housekeeping a month ago I found my draperies had become creased from packing. I hung them out on the line, hoping to remove the creases. Then I forgot them. The result was they became badly faded and soiled."

"I was heart sick until the happy thought struck me to dye them. I just dyed them with Diamond Dyes, and as I used Diamond Dyes they look gorgeous and new. I have never seen easier dyes to use than Diamond Dyes. They give the most beautiful colors,—when used either for tinting or dyeing,—and never take the life out of cloth as other dyes do."

A New Product

Making Of Wool Leather Is Closely Guarded Secret

The newest leather isn't leather at all. It is nothing more or less than wool. Woolleather has been developed at the headquarters of the British Wool Industries Research Association in Leeds, England, and the process is a closely guarded secret. It looks like leather, wears like leather, is water-proof and can be produced remarkably cheaply. The new wool-leather is excellent for boot uppers, furniture, motor cars, and for the upholstery of cars, buses, and railway vehicles. Not the least of its advantages is that it is easily produced in any desired shade or color.

Persian Balm imparts a rare charm and distinction to the woman who uses it. Fragrant as a flower, delicately cool to the skin, it always results in complexion delightfully young and lovely. Indispensable to every dainty woman. As a powder base for silk-textured skins or as a beautifying lotion, it is unrivalled. Tones and stimulates the skin, recommended after sunbath to soothe and make the hands flawlessly white.

Telegraphing Flowers

Television May Enable Purchaser To Actually See the Flowers Selected

The sending of "flowers by telegraph" has for some years been a great convenience to many people, although they have been obliged largely to leave the selection of the bouquet or plant to the florist. But, according to information given out at the recent convention of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, television will soon enable the customer actually to see his selection of blooms and supervise their arrangement before delivery is made. Perhaps the time may come when a customer can get a whiff of their fragrance? Christian Science Monitor.

New Appointment

Dr. C. N. Bell, Of Grain Standards Board, Has Been Superannuated

Dr. C. N. Bell, first secretary of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and recently the secretary of the Western Grain Standards Board and the Grain Appeals Board, having reached the age limit for civil servants, has been superannuated and is succeeded in his position by Major G. J. Drake, who has been transferred from the Canadian Government Elevators at Port Williams.

Major Drake is well known in Winnipeg, having held a secretarial position in the Manitoba legislature for a number of years.

World's Poultry Congress

Preparations Being Made To Entertain Delegates To Rome Convention

Delegates to the Fifth World's Poultry Congress being held in Rome, Italy in 1923, are assured an exceptional opportunity for visiting. Not only will they "see Rome" during Congress week but they will be guests of the Government of Italy for an eight-day tour of the country, during which visits will be made to such interesting and historic spots as Leghorn, Florence, Pisa, Pesece, Ancona, Bologna, Ravenna, Milan, Como, and Venice. Canadian delegates will return by way of Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and France en route to Great Britain. Going routes being considered include via Paris and the South of France, via Gibraltar and Old Spain, via the Riviera, and by steamer direct to Naples with a day at Palermo, R. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, is again giving an active lead to Canadian participation and will be glad to hear from anyone interested in attending the Rome Congress.

Achieved Great Success

Lord Byng Restored Public Confidence In Scotland Yard

Canadians will read with warm satisfaction the tribute paid to Lord Byng by the London Times on his relinquishing the office of Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police Force. The great popularity which his lordship gained with the soldiers under his command on the battlefields of Europe was shared by the citizens of this country when he became Governor-General of the Dominion. He was liked for his personal qualities as much as he was admired for his ability and strength of character. When he was appointed to Scotland Yard there were some who wondered whether military qualifications were the right credentials for a police chief. Unfortunately Lord Byng has suffered much from ill-health during his tenure of office, but he has succeeded in achieving a great success in the position. Certain happenings had marred the wonderful record of Britain's Metropolitan Police Department, and it was to no secure that the great commander was called. He undertook the task with his usual thoroughness, however, with the result, according to the Times, that "Scotland Yard has gained nothing less than complete restoration of public confidence in the police force and the police force has regained confidence in itself. The good which Lord Byng has done will live after him." May he be spared to long enjoy his well-earned retirement! He has shown himself in peace and war a true commander and a great administrator. — Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

Make Drastic Cuts

United States Naval Expenditures To Be Reduced

With strokes cutting more than $20,000,000 from its 1933 expenditures, the United States navy has eliminated its less important activities and has sharply curtailed many that it valued highly.

More than 3,000 civilian employees will be laid off. More than 4,000 sailors and marines will be taken from the rolls.

The Boston, Mass., and Charleston, S.C., navy yards will be closed, and so will the operating base at New Orleans, La., the naval station at Newport, Rhode Island, and the naval ammunition depot at Lake Denmark, New Jersey.

Canada a Good Country

Times may be "hard" in Canada in some lines, but generally speaking, this country can hold its head up with any of them when it comes to business integrity and solidity. Naturally, we cannot hope to be rid of those who are always tripping over their lower lip, but these, fortunately, are in the minority. But how that minority can sometimes broadcast.

"FATIGUE?"

I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock and certain days, of course, were worse than others."

"Then I learned to rely on Aspirin."

The sure cure for my headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone and you are home. And once you are comfortable the pain seldom returns!

Keep Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put it taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be better, but it is also a little foolish. So is postponing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, or neuralgia, or neuritis. These things always relieve. They don't depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of scientific research.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying Aspirin. Don't take a substitute because it will not act the same. Aspirin is made in Canada.

Value To Canadian Agriculture Of The Chemical Work Carried On By Our Experimental Farms

For a period of more than forty years the division of Chemistry of the Dominion Experimental Farm system has been in close contact with the Canadian farmer. This has been brought about by the issue of reports and bulletins, by lectures and addresses, personal interviews and to a still greater degree by a voluminous and ever-increasing correspondence.

The information so disseminated is largely the result of investigation and research which are based upon the application of the science of chemistry to practical agriculture, and these constitute the main work of the division.

A large number of soil samples are received for examination from farmers scattered throughout the Dominion. In the report of analysis to the sender, advice is given with respect to manures, soil amendments and suitable fertilizers, etc., in this way alone hundreds of farmers every year are directly benefiting from this service of the division. From the results of carefully planned investigations the influence of continuous grain-growing has been determined and economic methods of maintaining the fertility of western prairie soils have been indicated. The extensive use of alfalfa and clover in present-day crop rotations is largely due to the early work of the division in which the manifold value of these legumes was demonstrated.

Recent years have witnessed an increasing use of fertilizers, especially in eastern Canada. Extremely valuable information with respect to the economic employment of fertilizers and liming materials has resulted from the investigation work carried on by the division on the several branch farms and stations.

Another important phase of the work has been the establishing of standards for the more important feeding stuffs. Some years ago there was widespread dissatisfaction over the variable quality of milling by-products. Many were loaded with screenings with consequent poorer feeding value; injurious weed seeds were frequently present, and middlings with a low fibre content, so necessary in pig-feeding, were difficult to obtain. Standards for bran, shorts, middlings and feed mixes were set, regulations regarding adulteration by screenings passed and as a result there is on the market today standardized clean, high-grade, wheat by-products. Similar work was done for packing house by-products, resulting in the vending of properly labelled material with guaranteed contents of protein, fat and bone-phosphate.

In the chemistry of wheat it has been shown that seasonal conditions—precipitation, temperature, etc.—have a greater influence on the quantity and quality of the gluten than does soil fertility. The valuation of newly introduced varieties has been another phase of the work. For instance, some years ago an effort was made by interested parties to distribute in the West a variety of wheat to replace Marquis and other standard varieties. Yields, appearance and even percentage of protein of this variety were satisfactory. Gluten determinations, however, showed this wheat to possess a soft, sticky, non-resistant gluten, markedly inferior to that of such older varieties as Pike and Marquis. In consequence the distribution of this variety was discouraged.

Grain mixtures grown to produce high protein yields have been under investigation. As a result certain mixtures have been found which almost double the amount of protein per unit area formerly obtained.

The critical examination of a recently introduced scheme of pasturing calls for special growing. This system involving close grazing accompanied by judicious fertilizer treatment, has produced a herbage rich in protein during the entire growing season and has resulted, in some districts, in saving the purchase price of commercial feeds during the summer.

Free analysis of well water has contributed towards the maintenance of hygienic conditions through the farming districts. Thousands of samples of well water have been analyzed, pollution, alkalinity, etc., detected and remedies suggested.

At one time the export trade in pork to Great Britain was seriously affected by extreme stiffness of the product. Investigation of this problem proved that the chief factors leading to stiffness in pork were the stage of maturity of the animals and the character of the feed skim-milk in the ration possessing a correcting influence in the prevention of this undesirable quality.

The foregoing paragraphs present but a small portion of the work of the division. These examples, however, may serve to emphasize the value to Canadian agriculture of the chemical work of the Dominion Experimental Farms.

Tarnish on tin cooling vessels makes them more efficient by holding rather than reflecting heat.

The citrus growers of California have a $25,000 insect laboratory.

Excellent Wheat Quality

This Year's Western Wheat Crop Of High Protein Content

Additional tests of the milling and baking qualities of the 1931 crop have confirmed early conclusions that this year's crop is equal, if not superior, to that of any year examined. The tests were conducted by Dr. F. J. Birchard, chemist in charge of the research laboratory of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

The weights per bushel of the first four grades are all higher than last year. The average weight for No. 1 hard is 65½ pounds; for No. 1 northern, 63; No. 2 northern, 64½; No. 3 northern, 67½. With the increase in weight there is a corresponding increase in the percentage of flour in each grade. The average protein content is placed at 14.3 per cent, for the first four grades in Dr. Birchard's report.

The baking quality of the first four grades is fully equal, if not superior to last year," says the report. "This is indicated by the very large volume and excellent texture of the loaves both when baked by themselves and when blended with typical soft wheats."

Attention is called to the relatively small percentage of wheat grading three northern or lower. Of the wheat passing through Winnipeg, 38.8 per cent, graded one northern, 34.1 per cent, two northern, 21.6 per cent, one hard, and only 4.5 per cent, three northern, and one percent, in other grades.

While the samples tested include wheat from the three prairie provinces, comparatively little from the northern sections of Saskatchewan and Alberta has been inspected. Heavy rains recently in those areas may affect the wheat.

Many Divorce Applications

Divorce applications to the number of some 242 have been filed at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, so far this year. Of these, 188 were applied for by wives and 109 by husbands. September was the high month for applications, 40 being recorded in that month.

Industry Must Take Leading Part In The Battle Against Depression, Says Dr. Manion

Calling upon industrial and business leaders together with men and women in every walk of life to pool their intellects in evolving a permanent cure for economic depression, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals addressed at Windsor, the convention of the Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario. Civilization was being challenged; it was on trial and "it is the duty of all good Canadians to give serious thought to the whole matter to avoid our civilization going the way of civilizations in the past."

Communism was not the cure, Dr. Manion hastened to add. Unemployment, hunger and hardship formed fertile ground for the seeds of Bolshevism. "Our whole system of production and distribution is out of gear. That is why paid agents of Moscow are in our midst today, feeding upon discontent like evil birds of prey. These agents must be suppressed for while our civilization has its faults, we can gradually correct these conditions without crippling or destroying our whole political and economic structure."

Notwithstanding its nature, any plan or policy to combat economic conditions must be contributory, continued Dr. Manion. The employee, the employer and the state must contribute. Without elaborating on it, the federal minister said one per cent of all the wages and salaries paid annually in Canada, would amount to $25,000,000. "What good Canada," he added, "would object to contributing one dollar of every hundred dollars he earns to protect himself and his fellow Canadian from the tragedy of unemployment? In some such manner, modified according to circumstances, an immense fund could be built up in the full years to protect us in the lean years."

Industry must take a leading part in the battle against depression, continued Dr. Manion. The Dominion, provincial and municipal governments were able to do only so much—after that point other agencies must enter the lists. For one thing, industry must change its tempo of production. "With industry the system in the past has been to go full blast ahead in prosperous years or seasons, utilizing to the full its large factories, marvellous machines and the human element; when depression arrives, the industries slow down and the workers have to be cared for by the state until the next period of prosperity arrives." The Dominion this year was spending about $50,000,000 in caring for the unemployed and this could not continue indefinitely.

"If our political and economic system is to endure," said Dr. Manion, "the ablest minds in industry, commerce and public life must try to evolve the alternating peaks of prosperity and depths of depression, and industry must give its assistance to the fullest. We must, in other words, stop inventing industrial machines which take employment from the hands of the workers and try to develop instead a social machinery which will keep our people reasonably employed and so give us a contented and happy people. This is the best antidote to the poison of communism."

Dr. Manion closed his speech on a note of optimism. This country possessed immense natural resources, its banking system was strong and sound, the people were law-abiding, excellent ocean ports dotted the shorelines, unexploited commercial opportunities existed, particularly in the Orient and along the lines of preferential Empire trade. While this was not the time to "rock the boat" by capricious political criticism, likewise it was not the time to pay undue heed to "economic pessimists." There could be no doubt about Canada's future. "Its greatness is still to come."

LEADERS OF CANADIAN BAR IN SESSION

From east and west Canada's leading barristers met at the 16th annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association held during September at the Manoir Richelieu, Murray Bay, Quebec. Officially opened by His Excellency the Governor-General, the sessions were also attended by distinguished leaders of the bar from England, France and the United States. Photographs show top view of the Manoir Richelieu during an informal gathering between business sessions; inset, Louis S. St. Laurent, K.C., Quebec, re-elected president of the Association, and E. H. Royal Ranch Has Done Much To Raise Standard Of Sheep Raising In Alberta

The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has just received the formal report on the grading of 22 ram lambs under the Federal Pure Grading Policy. Of the lot 21 graded XXX or top grade, S. G. Freeman, District Live Stock Promoter, who did the grading, states the lot were the best the E.P. Ranch has ever brought out. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has been giving special attention for a number of years to the improvement of his ranch flock, importing high grade sires from British flocks, and going farther afield to get rams with a view to improving these as well as body type. Sales of graded ram lambs and other rams from the flock have done much to raise the standard for the breed in Alberta, and also to increase the popularity and worth of sheep raising as an industry, particularly in the West.

When a three-year-old steer was slaughtered at Smithfield, London, England, recently, among the articles found in its stomach were seven pounds of rusty nails and screws, a silver brooch, part of a rubber Wellington boot, part of a bowler hat, a shoe buckle and several pieces of copper wire.

The Canadian Farm Loan Act.

ARTICLE No. 4

The rural credit systems in Europe have been in use for over 100 years. Under them the farmers have been able to obtain money at interest rates lower than those paid by commercial corporations—as low as three and one half per cent. When the United States entered the market as a wheat-exporting country, the farmers there soon realized that they were under a handicap in their competition for the world market owing to the fact that they could only obtain money on very unsuitable terms and at excessive rates of interest. A long period of agitation followed, and several investigations were made by the United States government into the systems of farm financing employed in Germany and France. The final result was the United States Farm Loan Act, passed in 1916 and based upon the Landerschaf system of land banks in use in Germany.

The preamble of the United States Act is worth noting: "An Act to provide capital for agricultural development; to create a standard form of investment based upon farm mortgage; to equalize the rates of interest upon farm loans." Under it the farmer is provided with money at six per cent. interest, repayable in equal payments of principal and interest over a period of from twenty to thirty-three years. At that time it was estimated he was paying an average of eight and one half per cent. for the use of money. Since the passing of the original act, provision has been made to supply the American farmer with intermediate and short-term loans as well as the long-term at first provided for.

In 1927 the Dominion parliament, following the lead of the United States, passed the Canadian Farm Loan Act. When the Canadian Act was passed, the opinion was expressed in the House that the western farmer was paying from eight to ten per cent. interest, that the Ontario farmer could then borrow money for five and one half per cent, which rate they expected to be able to reduce to five in the near future, and that the Act should be of great benefit to the west.

The wheat pool experiment has proved that we cannot regulate the price of wheat on the world market. Therefore, if we are going to continue as a grain-exporting country we must see to it that our farmers can produce as cheap as their competitors in other parts of the world in order to sell at a profit. If the Farm Loan Act will save them money, we should see to it that loans under it are made available to them without delay.

In my next article I will discuss the Act from a social point of view and show how it encourages thrift and prosperity.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Benjamin Lawton, provincial game commissioner, and in the service of the provincial government since its formation in 1905, died at his residence at 7 o'clock Friday evening, as a result of a stroke suffered at his home Tuesday night. Mr. Lawton was born in Ontario in 1867. In October, 1905 he arrived in Edmonton and joined the department of agriculture as accountant. In 1906 he was given the post of chief game guardian when that position was created.

The first duties under Britain's new anti-dumping measure will become effective next Wednesday. The text of the "Abnormal Importations Act" which was issued Friday night, showed duties of 50 per cent. based on value. Dominion goods will not be taxed under the new legislation. The dominions will have full preference.

The Canadian National Railway will not place any difficulties in the way of Alberta taking charge of the abandoned grade running west from Edmonton to Jasper, for a motor highway. This was admitted by A. E. Warren, vice-president and general manager western lines, of the C.N.R., who conferred with Premier J. E. Brownlee and other provincial ministers on Friday.

Urges Licenses For Farm Dogs

Farm dogs in Alberta will carry license tags in future if a resolution passed at the twenty-third annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts which was held at Edmonton last week, is finally approved by the Alberta legislature. Sheep breeders, who were well represented at the sessions, stressed the need of adequate protection for their flocks from the dog menace.

Telephone Rates
Other resolutions passed were: Asking the province to lower the telephone rates to $1.50 a month; request for legislation placing the responsibility for the support of the families of persons serving prison terms, on the provincial government; to have legislation introduced which would force banks and loan companies to charge an interest rate not more than five per cent. and a final resolution to compel all vehicles on provincial main highways to carry a red tail light after dark.

"Y" Notes.

The next Y meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Clara Burkholder on December 1st.
This is to be a recipe and sample meeting. Each member is requested to bring a recipe and sample of her favorite candy.

Mr. W. H. B. Sharp Obtains New Position

Mr. W. H. B. Sharp, of the Didsbury Opera House recently installed a talking-picture machine in the Film Exchange building in Calgary. This machine, which is made by the same people who make the one Mr. Sharp operates at the Opera House, is practically a duplicate and will be used by Mr. Sharp in the screen-room of the new film exchange for a preview of all films to be used in Alberta. Mr. Sharp will have charge of this part of the exchange.

That he should have been selected by the nine companies handling films in Alberta for this important position, is evidence of his ability as a picture showman.

Overpayment To Alta. Pool Is Discussed.

Settlement of details regarding the overpayment amounting to approximately $5,500,000 with an adjustment on interest to the Alberta Wheat Pool on the 1929 crop which has been guaranteed by the province was the subject of discussion on Friday between Premier Brownlee, Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer and P. B. Alley, assistant general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and E. G. Long of the legal firm of Long, and Dale, Toronto.

Messrs. Alley and Long had been in Winnipeg where they had had a similar conference with Manitoba government officials.

The general basis of settlement of the Alberta guarantee was arranged as between the government and the banks some time ago, the arrangement being to issue 20 year bonds on an approximate rate base 4.6 per cent.

LOST 20 LBS. FAT

Without Altering Diet

To reduce weight without any attention to diet is rather more than anyone should expect. That the Kresken method should have succeeded in this case, is a great tribute to its effectiveness.

"When I started taking Kresken for reducing weight, I weighed 150 lbs. That was seven months ago. I decided I was too heavy, and now, thanks to the half teaspoonful of Kresken every morning, I tip the scale at 130 lbs. I have been that weight for nearly four months. I may say I feel much better. I did not diet in any way whatever."—E. C. Kresken.

Kresken Pills do not reduce your evening like so many products claim to do. But taken regularly over a period of time, with a modified diet and gentle exercise, half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast will take away any unhealthy flesh and restore your figure to its normal weight. Yet at the same time, build up health with a great increase in vigor and energy for you!

Worry and Fear

Factors That Help To Shorten the Span Of Life

The way that hate, fear, worry and jealousy have helped to choke off at 58 years man's hitherto rapidly increasing span of life, was described to the American College of Surgeons in New York.

The bank president worrying over business, the criminal suddenly stricken with fear and the mother watching her sick child all were pictured as doing the same injury to their health.

This increase to 58 as the average time every adult may expect to live was discussed by two internationally known physicians, Dr. George W. Crile of the Cleveland Clinic, and Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn.

Dr. Crile told the medical story of ravages of emotions of modern civilization. Dr. Mayo sketched remedies for ill health, which included newspapers as "the greatest educating, thought-moulding enterprise in the world."

China Becoming Modern

Western Mode Of Living Is Being Gradually Adopted

That China is rapidly narrowing the gap of centuries between its antiquated mode of living and modern civilization has been evidenced in many ways. The Chinese student is avid for Occidental knowledge and may often be seen mingling with enthusiastic graduates at Columbia and other universities. The Oriental nation has realized the healthful benefits of wheat at a most opportune time and is now becoming a new consumer market for 15,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat from the Federal Farm Board's stocks, which it recently purchased on a long-term credit basis.

Nor is the health of the modern Chinese baby being neglected. The best milk and butter that registered Ayrshire cows can produce will attend to this necessity, for the Hong Kong Dairy and Cold Storage Company has placed an order with the British Columbia Ayrshire Breeders' Association for 50 head.

Ex-Kaiser Leads Active Life

Occupies Time Taking Several Forms Of Physical Exercise

Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm is not the old worn-out man that many people think him to be. Quite on the contrary, he leads a very active life, according to the Doorn correspondent of the Berlin Tempo. His household consists of some sixty persons, and he continually receives visits from members of the former royal family. The ex-kaiser relies to a large extent on physical exercise to occupy his time. He arises at 6 a.m. and often takes a brisk walk before morning toilet. Breakfast is at 9. During the remaining of the morning he either plays tennis, indulges in wood chopping or again strolls through the woods adjoining the palace. He is accompanied on his walks by his pack of dogs—three dachshunds, a Russian wolfhound and a German shepherd dog. He has so completely taken to his own park of fallen and dead wood that he is forced to rely on his neighbors to "give" him work to do.

The New Honey Grades

Canadian Standard For Honey Provide A Natural Classification

The consuming public are showing a special interest in the attractive appearance and convenient identification of quality which is made possible by the new honey grades, which come into effect this year. Where honey is sold by grade the grading must conform to the Canadian standards. The Canadian standards for honey provide a natural classification by colour into the four classes "White," "Golden," "Amber," and "Dark." These classes in turn are graded strictly on the quality basis as "Pure," "Choice" or "Manufactured." The honey grades are especially popular because of the consistency of the application of grade terminology to the product when graded, the inherent quality of the honey literally speaks for itself.

Increased Postal Revenues

Substantial Recovery Is Noted By Postmaster General

Substantial recovery in postal business, with every prospect of last year's deficit being overtaken, is indicated in reports of postal business presented to Hon. Arthur Saupe, postmaster general. Since assuming that portfolio, Mr. Saupe has applied himself industriously to the task of converting a heavy deficit into a surplus and recently expressed satisfaction with the result, which promises well for the future.

One feature of the increased postal business is the marked advance in third-class mail matter. "If this conveys anything at all," declared one official, "it suggests that business houses and industrial concerns have greatly widened their advertising campaigns. Third-class mail embraces printed matter—circulars and such like. The doubling of this business in September indicates a pronounced confidence on the part of merchandising houses in the gradual betterment of conditions generally."

Lending support to this is the 15 per cent. increase in registered mail during September. Second-class mail matter has retained its position, while a slight drop in letter mail is more than offset by increases in other directions.

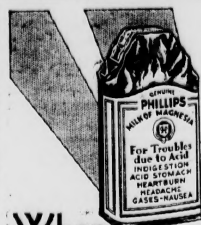

For the first three months of the fiscal year the department was $600,000 in "the red" from last year, but the months of July and August overtook $800,000 of that, and from now on officials look for a steady upswing.

Young Jap Is Independent

Eleven-Year-Old Boy On Long Trip Shows His Mettle

Pride runs high in the Japanese and it gets its start at an early age. Young Mr. Haruo Inouye, 11-year-old Japanese boy, who travelled alone from Toronto to Vancouver via Canadian National Railways, possesses a fiery independence that rose in protest when a representative of the Traveller's Aid remarked that Haruo looked no more than eight years old. "You're goofy," was the young Oriental's cryptic reply. Master Inouye decided to take a walk around Winnipeg before the Continental Limited steamed on west, and when the passenger agent, whose charge he was, left momentarily, he nodded in the direction of the unformed official and said: "Tell the president not to worry. I'll be back."

Haruo's father is dead and now his guardian, with whom he lived in Toronto, has also passed beyond, so the independent little lad was on his way to join an elder brother in Vancouver. He accepted words of sympathy with a shake of his head, a flashing smile and the terse, "Guess I'm fixed, but I'll get along."

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been overstimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you realize the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Get a bottle—any drug store. (Made in Canada.)

Growth Of Swedish Town

Modern City Was Arctic Wilderness Twenty Years Ago

A little more than twenty years ago the thriving town of Kiruna, Sweden, was nothing more than Arctic wilderness, the abode of wandering Lapps and herds of reindeer. Today it is a bustling community of 11,000 inhabitants, which serves as the commercial center of a vast iron industry with a history as romantic as the most adventurous pioneering exploits of North America. Swedish engineering skill has placed in the center of polar wastes a small modern city with as many up-to-date mechanical comforts as the most fastidious American city dweller could wish for. In the industrial world, Kiruna has become known for its almost unlimited iron ore resources. Figures given by officials of the mining syndicate which controls the properties show that more than 9,000,000 tons of iron ore were produced during 1920. A steady annual gain has been recorded since the mines were first worked on a large scale, about 1911.

CROSS-OVER LINES TEND TO MAKE THE FIGURE APPEAR SLIM

You'll love this silk crepe slanting in powder blue and white.

It's an extremely serviceable. Its moulded lines with wrapped arrangement through the bodice makes it especially desirable for the woman inclined to overweight. The surplice small collar of plain white crepe does its bit toward minimizing breadth.

It's simplicity itself to copy it! The bodice cuts in one until it joins the skirt.

It's a splendid opportunity! Choose now! You'll be delighted with this smart model.

Style No. 921 may be had in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 26, 35, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 5 1/2 yards of 45-inch contrasting.

Charming for this model for town or resort are the padded flat crepe skirts, Chinese silk damask, linen and shirting fabrics.

Pattern price 25 cents in stamps or coin (cash preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Separate Grade For Garnet Wheat Asked

May Be Excluded From Contract Grades Of Northern Classes

Garnet wheat will be excluded from the contract grades of the northern classes after July 31, 1932 if a resolution passed unanimously by the Western Grain Standards Board is approved and the Canadian Grain Act duly amended at the next session of parliament.

The resolution urged that it be granted as a separate variety of wheat in grades to be known as number one, two and three Garnet, with anything which fails to meet the requirements of these grades being included in the lower grades of the red spring wheat.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued.

Jean, always sensitive to her surroundings, shivered a little.

"It's rather eerie, isn't it?" she said. "It's just as if someone had suddenly turned the lights out."

"Quite a nice bit of symbolism," he returned enigmatically.

"How? I don't think I understand."

"He laughed a little.

"How should you? You're young. Fate doesn't come along and snuff out the lights for you when you are—"

"You're two years out," replied Jean composedly.

"As much? Then let's hope you'll have so much the longer to wait before Madame Destiny comes round with her snuffers."

"He spoke with a kind of bitter humour, the backwash surely of some storm through which he must have passed. Jean looked across at him with a vague trouble in her face.

"Then, do you think," she spoke uncertainly—"do you believe it is inevitable that she will come—sooner or later?"

"I hope not," he said gently. "But she comes to most of us."

"She hoped to put another question, but there was a note of finality in his voice—a kind of 'thus far shalt thou come and no further'—that warned her to probe no deeper. Whatever it was of bitterness that lay in the Englishman's past, he had no intention of sharing the knowledge with his chance companion of a day. He seemed to have become absorbed once more in his own thoughts, and for a time they trumped all together in silence.

The ascent steepened perceptibly, and Jean, light and active as she was, found it hard work to keep pace with the man's steady, swinging stride.

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL

DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged never forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is specially made for children's ailments; contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic, pain. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

CASTORIA
CHILDREN'S EXCLUSIVE

W. N. U. 1913

Apparently his thoughts engrossed him to the exclusion of everything else, for he appeared to have utterly forgotten her existence. It was only when a slip of her foot on the beaten surface of the snow wrenched a quick exclamation from her that he paused, wheeling round in consternation.

"It's your pardon! I'm walking over your legs! Why on earth didn't you stop me?"

There was something irresistibly boyish about the quick apology. Jean laughed, a little breathless from the snow's climb uphill.

"You seemed so bent on getting to the top in the least possible time," she replied demurely, "that I didn't like to disappoint you."

"I'm afraid I make a poor sort of guide," he admitted. "I was thinking of something else. You must forgive me."

They resumed their climb more leisurely. The trees were thinning a bit now, and ahead, between the tall, straight trunks winged with drooping, snow-laden branches, they could catch glimpses of the white world beyond.

Presently they came out above the pine-wood on to the edge of a broad plateau and Jean uttered an exclamation of delight, gazing spell-bound at the scene thus suddenly unfolded.

Behind them, in the pine-forest valley, a frozen reach of water gleamed like a dull sheet of metal, whilst before them, far above, stretched the great chain of mountains, pinnacles after pinnacles capped with snow, thrusting up into the cloud-swept sky. Through rifts in the cloud—almost, it seemed, torn in the breast of heaven by those towering peaks—the sun-light shined in long shafts, chequering the snows with shimmering patches of pale gold.

"It was worth the climb, then?"

"The Englishman, his gaze on Jean's rapt face, broke the silence abruptly. She turned to him, radiant-eyed.

"It's so beautiful that it makes one's heart ache!" she exclaimed, laying her hand on her breast with the little foreign turn of gesture she derived from her French ancestry.

She said no more, but remained very still, drinking in the sheer loveliness of the scene.

The man regarded her quietly as she stood there silhouetted against the skyline, her slim, brown-clad figure striking a warm note amid the chill Alpine whiteness and grey. Her face was slightly tilted, and as the sun-shine glinted on her hair and eyes, widening the russet lights that slumbered in them, there was something vividly arresting about her—a splendour of ardent youth which brought a somewhat wistful expression into the rather weary eyes of the man watching her.

His thought travelled back to the brief snatch of conversation evoked by the sudden gloom of the pine-woods. Surely, for once, Fate would lay aside her snuffers and let this young, eager life pass by unshadowed!

Even as he thought took shape in his mind, Jean turned to him again, her face still radiant.

"Thank you for bringing me up here!" she said simply. "It has been perfect."

She stretched out her hand, and he took it and held it in his for a moment.

"I'm glad you've liked it," he answered quietly. "It will always be a part of our day together—the day we stole from her conveniences."

"And now, if you can bring yourself back to more prosaic matters, I suggest we have lunch. Scenery, however fine, isn't exactly calculated to sustain life."

"Most maternal person!" She laughed up at him. "I suppose you think I'm a sandwich worth all the scenery in the world?"

"I'll admit to a preference for the sandwich at the moment," he acknowledged. "Come, now, confess! Aren't you hungry, too?"

"Staring! This appetite makes me feel as if I'd never had anything to eat in my life before!"

"Well, then, come and inspect my ally a moment."

The proposed refuge proved to be a roughly constructed little hut, hardly more than a shed provided with a few and thick-paneled windows, its only furniture a wooden bench and table. But that it had served its purpose as a kind of "travellers' rest" was proved by the fragments of apparatus, both in prose and verse, that were to be found inscribed in a species of "Visitors' Book" which lay on the table, carefully preserved from damp in a strong metal box. Jean amused herself by perusing the various contributions to its pages while the Englishman unpacked the contents of his knapsack.

The lunch that followed was a merry little meal, the two conversing with a happy intimacy and freedom from reserve based on the reassuring knowledge that they would, in all probability, never meet again. Afterwards, they bent their energies to converting a nutmeg into a couple of children over the particular form it should take.

So absorbed were they in the discussion that they failed to notice the perceptible cooling of the temperature. The sun no longer warmed the roofing of the hut, and there was a desolate note in the sudden gusts of wind which shook the door at frequent intervals as though trying to attract the attention of those within. Presently a louder rattle than usual, coincident with a chance pause in the conversation, roused them effectually.

"The Englishman's keen glance flashed to the little window, through which was visible a dancing, whirling blur of white.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed in good round English. "It's snowing like the very dickens!"

In two strides he had reached the door, and throwing it open, peered out. A draught of icy air rushed into the hut, accompanied by a flurry of fine snow driven on the wind.

When he turned back, his face had assumed a sudden look of gravity.

"We must go at once," he said, speaking in French again and apparently unconscious of his momentary lapse into his native tongue. "If we don't, we shan't be able to get back at all. The snow drifts quickly in the valley. Half an hour more of this and we shouldn't be able to get through."

Jean thrust the Visitors' Book back into its box, and began hastily repacking her companion's knapsack, but he stopped her almost roughly.

"Never mind that. Fasten that futility closer round your throat and come on. There's no taking chances in a blizzard like this. Don't you understand?"—almost roughly. "If we waste time we may have to spend the night here."

Impelled by the sudden urgency of his tones, Jean followed him swiftly out of the hut, and the wind, as though backed by her haste, snatched the door from her grasp and drove it to with a menacing thud behind them.

Species Is Unknown

Petrified Fish Found In Gravel Pit Near Moose Jaw

Mute testimony of the belief that the prairies were once covered by many fathoms of water came in the finding of a petrified skull fish of an unknown species, in a gravel pit, three miles southeast of Moose Jaw.

Carl Erickson, working at the rock pile was smashing a huge rock of 200 or 300 pounds when he came upon the "fish." It was right in the centre of the huge rock which had been dug up from a depth of about eight feet underground.

This relic of a distant age resembles the snail and is about the size of a man's fist.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost continual exhaustion. No wise precaution can be taken than that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, (known as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.)

A Birthday Party

Birthday Cards To Be Sent From Royal Winter Fair

Every boy and girl in Canada whose tenth birthday falls between November 15 and 26, inclusive, will receive a personal birthday card from the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, if it is requested. This is because the winter fair on those dates also celebrates its tenth "birthday."

This year the fair is designated a "commemorative show" to recall the inspiring influence it was to Canadian agriculture when founded ten years ago. And it is to help in spreading a cheery outlook respecting agriculture that the birthday party is being held.

Many children die from the assaults of worms, and the first care of mothers should be to see that their infants are free from these pests. A vermicide that can be depended on is Miller's Worm Powder. They will not only expel worms from the system, but act as a health-giving medicine and a remedy for many of the ailments that beset infants, enfeebling them and endangering their lives.

LIFE'S DELIGHT

Sometimes love is a rose glow
In a garden gay with sun,
Where the winds all sweet with perfume go
And song is never done.

As day by day the roses nod
And brighten the garden-path,
So love in a life is the smile of God,
And life grows fair by love's grace.

Sometimes love is a lily-bud
As lovely as the moon,
A lily-bud in the star-light's flood
On the still and black lagoon.

As lilies may lift their petals pale
Out of the mud and slime,
So love in a life can never fail
To make that life sublime.

Love may be rose or lily white,
A thing of sun or shade,
But always love has been life's delight,
Since ever the world was made.

Little Helps For This Week

"Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust."—Psalm xl, 4.

Just to trust and yet to ask Guidance still. Take the training or the task. Just to take the loss or gain As He sends it; As He lends it. This is all and yet the way Marked by Him who loves thee best;

If you go to Him to be guided, He will guide you; But he will not comfort your distrust or half-trust of Him by showing you the chart of all His purposes concerning you. He will only show you into a way where, if you go cheerfully and trustfully forward, He will show you on still farther. No contract will be made with you save that He engages, if you trust Him, to lead you into the best things all the way through."—Horace Bushnell.

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying a reliable remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Mountain View Notes

Miss J. Wilson is a patient in the local hospital at present. All wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss D. Brown spent last weekend in Calgary and was a guest at the tea held in the Palliser Hotel under the auspices of the I.O.D.E.

The monthly meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Worral, November 19th. Arrangements for the annual Xmas Tree were discussed, and the report of the bazaar was given by Mrs. J. Haynes, who was presented with a quilt in recognition of her past services. The price for the fifty cent article given by each member and auctioned at the highest price went to Mrs. E. Blain. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames J. Worral and J. Haynes. The annual meeting will be held Wednesday, December 2nd in Community Hall.

RUGBY NOTES

Last Thursday Mrs. Hoosegood entertained the ladies of the Elks' "Friendly Neighbor Sewing Circle". The afternoon was spent in making rugs, which will be disposed of at a later date. The members are also making a rug to be raffled in aid of the piano fund.

Rugby "Cheer Up" Club held its opening meeting for the winter season last Tuesday evening with quite a number present. The new officers elected were: President, Mr. L. Clayholt; Vice-president, Mr. W. P. Brown; Secretary-treasurer, P. L. Hoosegood. It was decided to hold the meetings as formerly, every other Wednesday night. An interesting item on the evening's program was the presentation of a wedding gift to the last year's secretary, now Mrs. Alice Blain. The club is planning a series of progressive whist parties to be held at the members' homes during the winter.
